Englebright the Friend of the Miners

Mining engineers rarely devote much attention to politics. The country would be better served if they did. Farmers and lawyers form an undue proportion of the membership of legislative bodies, and a few engineers would prevent a good many impractical experiments and at the same time that they would naturally be constructive in their tendencies. California is the only state represented in congress by a man who gives his occupation as "mining engineer." W. F. Englebright, who represents the first California district, has abundantly proved his right to the title by excellent work at Nevada City and elsewhere. At Washington he has been very influential in shaping legislation relative to mining matters. It was due to his insistence that lands containing precious metals were expected from the operation of the new withdrawal law, and in the creation of the bureau of mines and other matters of concern to the mining industry he has been active and effective. We do not always agree with him, but, if it be not permitted a technical paper to express an opinion in such matters, we may at least make clear our hope that the voters of his district, in which there are large mining interests, will continue for many years to send him to Washington. We like to think that there is at least one mining engineer in Congress.

Enlarge Paper

Owing to the time consumed in setting up the sample ballots for the primary election, which appear as an advertisement in this issue, the Ledger is short on general local news this week. There never has been in the history of the paper such a press of advertising space as at present. To accommodate advertisers, we are compelled to issue a twelve page paper this week, and will have to do the same next week.

Swimming Pool

The old reservoir located on Peek's hill has been filled with water, and is used as a swimming pool. A crowd of Jackson boys have contributed sufficient funds to defray rental expenses and $4 per month water rent. The water is tapped at the ditch, and runs into the old basin through a small ditch.

A ladder and platform has been constructed upon the west side of the basin, and a diving board on the east side. A large tent has been erected close by, and this is used by the bathers for a place to change clothes. Those who helped put the new swimming hole in commission are Arthur Maloni, Lionel Harris, Irvin Leach, Marion Calvin, Earl Garbarini, Lorenzo Oneto and Harold Flagg. The pool is about 150 feet long, 60 feet wide, and nearly 10 feet deep.

Had dyspepsia or indigestion for years. No appetite, and what I did eat distressed me terribly. Burdock Blood Bitters cured me.—J. H. Walker, Sunbury, Ohio.

Serious Fight

A fight in the home of Peter Derania last week, nearly proved fatal to N. Marninovich, an aged visitor to the Derania residence.

It is claimed Derania and Marninovich were drinking freely of wine, when an argument arose on a certain thing that dates back some twenty years. Derania, it is said, became very angry during the heated discussion which followed, and grasping a chair, struck his aged companion with it on the chest, breaking several ribs. He repeatedly hit the old man, breaking his nose and crushing and bruising his victim in a most brutal manner. Dr. Norman of Plymouth was summoned to render Marninovich medical aid. The doctor reported his patient to be in a critical condition, holding out little hopes for his recovery. The victim has however, greatly improved, and hopes are now entertained for the man's recovery.

Constable Wheeler was out of town during the fight, but upon his return, he was immediately notified of the affair, and as a result, Derania was placed under arrested and held under $250 bond.

Carriage Turned Over

Several Italians secured a double team at the Union livery stable last Monday, and drove to Amador. On their return home, about 9 p. m., while rounding the corner on the Kennedy grade, below the Argonaut mine, the team was upset and the occupants thrown to the ground, the top of the carriage was demolished and the seat broken. The horses were stopped before more serious damage was done, and the team was taken to the stables, looking as though it was struck by a cyclone. The drivers were allowed to depart, after paying a deposit on the smashed wagon.

Not long ago, several drunken men driving a double team, ran into another team at the Kennedy grade up near the old Kennedy shaft. The accident resulted in the crippling of a valuable horse. This sort of driving ought to be investigated whenever it is reported, and the offenders brought to justice.

New Business House

Fred Heide and Thomas J. Earle, two young men from Reno, have set up a cleaning and dyeing business at 90 Main street this city, and entertain the best of hopes for a good line of patronage in their business of dyeing, cleaning, pressing, alteration and repair work, on ladies' and gents' clothing. The young men come here highly recommended, and guarantee satisfaction in all their work.

Off on Vacation

Julius Piccardo left Jackson on Wednesday morning for San Francisco, where he will spend several weeks on a vacation. Piccardo, who is a member of the firm of Vela and Piccardo, conducting an up-to-date sporting goods house in this city, will also transact such business as the firm may have while on his trip to the western metropolis.

H S Laswell was appointed deputy sexton by E S Pitois.

City clerk presented the tax roll for the year 1910.

Adjourned to August 8.

Stricken on Street

Mrs Dwyer was stricken with apoplexy on Tuesday morning about 9 a. m. in front of Peter Piccardo's harness shop on Main street. The aged lady desired to visit the millinery store, where some alterations on a hat were being done. She had all arrangements complete for a visit to San Francisco, and intended to leave Jackson on Wednesday morning. Peter Piccardo said he noticed Mrs Dwyer falter, and hurried to her side before she had a chance to fall. He then called Charles Gnocchio, a son-in-law, and with the assistance of M. S. McGary, she was removed to the home of Charles Gnocchio, where she is reported to be improving as nicely as can be expected.

New Electric Company

The general Electric Company, represented by Mr Underwood and others who were in Jackson last week, are making arrangements for the inauguration of another big power plant in this county. Preliminary surveys have already been made, and the final working surveys will be commenced ere long. The scene of operations will be on the Mokelumne river, at point above the intake of the Standard Electric company, so that the enterprise will not in any way interfere with the operations of the present plant at Electra. Indeed, it will doubtless prove a benefit rather than otherwise to the Standard folks. The intention is to build an enormous dam in the vicinity of Bear river, at a favorable site already selected. From this dam the water will be conveyed by ditch, built on the Amador side of the river, to a point above the head of the Standard ditch, where the power plant will be built. It is claimed that a fall of over 1000 feet can be secured, and that the capacity of the plant will be from 30,000 to 40,000 horse power. The water will all be returned to the river above the head of the Standard ditch, and hence that company will gain additional water supply by the scheme.

The installation of this enterprise means much for the eastern section of Amador county. To get the plant in operation will extend over a period of years, and a small army of employes will be necessary to build the big dam and construct the miles of ditches. As far as disposal of the electric energy is concerned, there is no question upon that proposition. The demand for electric power is increasing at a greater rate than the supply.

Will Attend Wedding

The Rev. Thos. H. Nicholas left for Berkeley last Wednesday, where he will officiate at the wedding of his niece, Miss Olive M. Morrish, a noted soloist of Berkeley and Mr Barnum, a professor in the San Jose high school. Rev Nicholas expects to be back in time for his work next Sunday. His daughter, Miss Winnifred will return with him.

MINE NEWS

ALONG LODGE

Interesting Accounts of Mines Located In Amador Co.

Negotiations were closed in San Francisco here during the last week for the purchase of the Climax gold mine, of Amador county, by the Gold King Mine and Milling Company, a California operation, of which, Frederick A. Stokes, a New York financier and capitalist, is one of the principal owners. Under the direction of the new company extensive development work will be commenced immediately on the property. It was through Frank L. Mulgrew, of the reportorial staff of the Call, that the sale and financing of the mine was made. The California Exploration Company, of which Stokes is president and Mulgrew secretary, will act as the fiscal agents of the Gold King company. The Climax, which will be known as the Gold King in the future, gives promise to be one of the best mines on the east belt in Amador county. The mine has not been worked since 1906, the main shaft having caved at that time on account of ground movement, and the mine filled with water. Since then the owners have been seeking capital with which to open the property on a deep scale; and which will now be done under the fiscal agency of the California Exploration Company.

Other local men interested in the Gold King are John B. Martin, chief of police of San Francisco; Dr. P. B. Aiken, of Jackson, Amador county and E. C. Ambrose, president of the E. C. Ambrose Grocery Company, of Oakland.

The output of the Kennedy, the mammoth mine of Amador county, continues on the same liberal scale that has marked the history of this deep mine for several years past. The clean-up of the past month was shipped this week, and consisted of three big bars of bullion, each as much as a man could lift. The value of these bars of course we can only roughly estimate, but the aggregate would probably not fall short of $75,000. This would give an average yield per stamp per month of $750 for 100 stamps; this would leave a handsome sum to be paid stockholders, after paying running expenses.

Specialist Here

Dr. Boyson, the eye specialist of Plymouth, was in Jackson last Friday to visit his patient, Wm. Doyle of Hunt's gulch, whose eye he removed recently, on account of disease caused by the irritation of a piece of slate having lodged in the socket some months ago. He is getting along nicely under the doctor's care. A glass eye will be placed in the sightless socket as soon as the condition warrants. The patient has experienced little pain since the operation, and the sight of the other eye will not be impaired.

Band Concert

Jackson's Military band gave another of its concerts on Saturday evening and received due applause by the large crowd which assembled in the front of the Tallon building on Main street, and listened to the complete program.

Following is the concert for this week:
March, "17 Regt." Will Huff; barn dance, "Kerry Mills New Barn Dance," Kerry Mills; select "La Fraviata," Verdi; waltz, "Cupids Bouquet," Chas Sanglear; popular a "Summer Time is the Time for me," Kerry Mills, b "Garden of Roses," Denijse and Schmidt; duet "The Two Zephyrs," Thomas; Ov., "Criterion," H. C. Miller; Hash! "Daddy Delight," F. H. Losey.

Sent to Stockton

H. W. Tregoning was committed to the insane asylum at Stockton upon an examination and report of doctors Endicott and Gall last Saturday, and was removed to that institution on Sunday last by deputy sheriff Connors. Tregoning became violent on Friday while seated in the Globe hotel, and was placed under arrest after great difficulty and committed to the county jail. The young man has been in the county several months, and always behaved himself in a most commendable way, and his sudden and unexplained condition is regretted by all who knew him.

Kennedy Wins

Jackson's second team of ball players were defeated on the Zeila grounds on Sunday last by a score of 9 to 3, in favor of their opponents, the Kennedy team. Kennedy is playing good ball, and her team carries several of exceptional worth. The city's second team was not filled with its regular material, and therefore could not do itself strict justice.

NORTH WOODS INDIANS.

Natives Who Helped the Whites Across the Upper Wilderness.

It was the North woods Indians who led the white race across the upper wilderness trails and helped that race to get and to hold its footing there. As the lower tribes, such as the Iroquois, were allies of Great Britain in war, so the people north of the great lakes were the allies of that country in industry. Without the sturdy voyagers of the north, half Indian at least, the fur trade could not have been.

If you read the story of Sir George Simpson, of David Thompson, of Sir Alexander Mackenzie, of Harmon, of Hearne, of Alexander Henry the younger—indeed, of any of the early or late explorers of Hudson bay or the old Northwest company—always you will find that the real man behind the pack and paddle was this northern native. Perhaps he was not full blood. Indeed, for the most part the typical voyager was not. From the time of Greyson du Lhut on down, wild white blood has merged with wild red blood.

The first fur traders on both sides our territorial line got on very well, for there was much marriage according to the laws of the aboriginal world, and the tendency was for the two races to dwell in harmony. It was firewater, cows and plows that broke up the game.—Emerson Hough in Recreation.

PAID THE DEBT.

The Captain Settled the Account Before His Vessel Sailed.

In Burnaby's "Travels in America in 1759," a book quite popular during the latter part of the eighteenth century, the following incident is related: The captain of a British man-of-war cruising off the Massachusetts coast left his wife in Boston. On one of his visits to port she came down to the wharf to meet him, and she was saluted as a true and loving sailor's wife deserved. This violation of law was at once reported, and the captain was brought before the magistrate and sentenced to be publicly whipped. There was no getting out of it, and the captain submitted quite gracefully. Just before the departure of his ship he gave an elaborate entertainment, to which all of the magistrates were invited. After the festivities were over and every one had shaken hands with the captain and was going over the side the magistrates were seized by the arm and stripped to the waist. Each one was led to the gangway, where a vigorous boatswain gave him thirty-nine lashes on the bare back and then hustled him over into a boat amid the cheers of the whole ship's company.

How Tobacco Got Its Name.

The origin of the word tobacco is not definitely settled. Oviedo, one of the early Spanish chroniclers, says it was named after a Y shaped instrument which was commonly used as a snuffing tube. The two prongs were placed in the nose, and fumes of the powdered leaf were inhaled. This was called "tobaco," which was the name given to the plant. On the contrary, one of the islands of the West Indies is said to have furnished the name. It is asserted that tobacco was first taken into Spain in 1558 by Fernan dez, a physician, who had been sent by Philip II. of Spain to investigate the products of Mexico. It next reached Portugal, was soon introduced into France by the French ambassador, Jean Nicot, and sent to the Portuguese court in 1559. When he returned to his home he presented some of the seed and leaves to Queen Catherine de' Medici, and the scientific name of the plant was thereafter designated as "nicotine" in his honor.

Balancing an Egg.

All the world knows how Columbus on a historic occasion made an egg stand on end. After many learned theories had been advanced on balancing the egg he set the egg on end by, of course, mashing down hard enough to form a base, but the problem is capable of still another solution. It is an easy matter to set an egg on a plate, for instance, if you know how. The trick is impossible until the egg has been boiled in an upright position. The position of the hardened yolk at the end of the shell lowers the center of gravity until the sphere can be spun or even balanced with ease.

Weight of Brain.

The average weight of the human brain is forty-nine and a half ounces avoirdupois for males and forty-four ounces for females. In males the minimum weight is about thirty-four ounces and the maximum sixty-five ounces. In females the minimum weight is thirty-one ounces and the maximum fifty-six. In newborn infants the brain weighs about 11.65 ounces for the male and ten ounces for the female.

A Beneficent Rule.

"So you are ninety-four years old! To what do you attribute your long life?"

"A good many things have contributed to it, the most important, I think, being the care which I have always taken not to get into a fight with a bigger man than myself."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Old Habit.

Towne—I suppose you have heard that old Lawyer Sharpe is lying at the point of death? Browne—No. Well, well, the ruling passion strong in death, eh?—Philadelphia Press.

How poor are they that have no patience!—Shakespeare.

HE WAS NOT A FLIRT.

Therefore He Resented the Woman's Attempts at Familiarity.

He was riding homeward, comfortably seated and reading his paper. Being a trifle nearsighted, he was applying himself even more closely to his paper than other homegoing passengers. Thus intent in the day's news, he was startled when a woman came up beside him and touched him lightly on the shoulder, at the same time casting a longing eye on his seat.

He is a polite man, and he got up "A woman with that much nerve is entitled to a seat," he muttered to himself. "The idea of a woman deliberately nudging a man out of his seat!" Other women standing near by laughed unreservedly. He hid his embarrassment behind his paper, for he felt that his good nature had been imposed upon and that the laugh was on him.

By and by there was a vacant seat next to the one he had given up to the woman, and he sat down once more. The woman turned and looked at him amusedly. He could feel her gaze, even though he made a bluff at being intensely interested in his paper. Pretty raw, it seemed to him, for a woman deliberately to take the seat of a total stranger and then sit there and laugh at him because he was such a mark.

Then the woman spoke to him. "Aren't you going to talk to me?" she asked.

He could stand her familiarity no longer. "Well, of all the"—He stopped right there when he looked around and recognized her. It was his wife!—Cleveland Leader.

COOKS' SHOPS.

They Were the Beginnings of the Modern Restaurant.

In primitive times the only places in London where the public could be entertained with food had been the cooks' shops. The famous East Cheap was a great thoroughfare, down which the stalls of the butchers alternated with those of the cooks. You chose a joint at the flesh market, and you carried it next door to be cooked for you by a certain hour. If you wished for wine, you must bring that with you, for the cooks sold no liquor, although they seem to have provided, as time went on, more and more of the natural accompaniments of meat, such as bread, vegetables and pastry.

This habit continued until well into the reign of Elizabeth, and so long as such an inconvenient custom prevailed there could have been no real comfort for any citizen who chose to dine abroad. He must have had as much trouble with portage and baskets as a country party has today at a picnic. But about the time that Shakespeare came up to London a remarkable change took place in the customs of the town, and the practice of public hospitality and entertainment was singularly facilitated. The nature of this change lay in the sudden development of the tavern and the consequent withdrawal of the cookshop. The worshipful company of pastels, as the cooks were called, ceased to enjoy the monopoly of providing hot meals.—Edmund Gosse in Harper's Magazine.

Railroads Are Never Finished.

In one respect a railroad is unlike any other project undertaken by man—it is never finished. Like a cucumber vine, says a writer in Popular Mechanics, the instant it ceases to grow it begins to wither. There must be continuous expansion and enlargement. Larger cars require more powerful locomotives, and both in turn call for heavier rails, bigger roundhouses, stronger bridges, longer platforms and sidings, increased safety devices, while the straightening of curves and the leveling of grades come in for their share of attention on even the oldest roads. Little wonder, then, with our railroads consuming nearly one-half of all our manufactured steel and iron and fully one-half of all the lumber made each year, that they are the unfailing barometer of the business activity of the nation.

The Wonders of Science.

It was left for the exhibitor of a phonograph in the streets of Utrecht, according to an American traveler, to put the finishing touch to the wonderful invention. There was the sound of a military band in full blast, and then suddenly the tune stopped and "Halt!" rang hoarsely out upon the air.

"Who's that interrupting the concert?" flippantly inquired the American, edging close to the operator.

"That," said the man, surveying him blandly, "was the voice of Napoleon Bonaparte giving the order at the battle of Waterloo."

That Was the Trouble.

A Wichita man was fussing because of his aching teeth. "Why don't you go to a dentist?" asked one of his friends.

"Oh, I haven't got the nerve," was the reply.

"Never mind that," replied the other friend. "The dentist will find the nerve all right."—Kansas City Journal.

Literary Analysis.

"Shakespeare's works are marvelous revelations of poetry."

"Poetry!" echoed the Baconian scornfully. "They are merely a collection of ciphers, with some figures of speech thrown in to make them harder."—Washington Star.

His Wise Plan.

"I never have any luck."

"Neither do I," responded the other citizen. "Therefore I keep out of enterprises requiring gods of luck to be a success."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

SCIENTIFIC MISCELLANY

Reported weekly for the Wealth from Scientific Employees—Is the Earth Losing Its Water? A Shell With a Torch—Seeking Desert Products—Photographic Measurement of the Aurora—Better Stage Lighting—Metals Powdered by Light—Chemically Colored Flowers

The great success of the German chemical industry has been brought about and maintained by the employment of large numbers of trained research chemists, and the value of this scientific service is indicated by the figures consul-general Guenther has drawn from the annual reports of the employing factories. The works at Biebrich, with $2,000,000 capital stock, earned $1,000,000 in 1909, paid 32 per cent dividends, and gave $100,000 as gratuities to directors. A number of other concerns paid 12 to 27 per cent, with gratuities to directors. The Farbenfabriken-Bayer Company, Elberfeld, whose capital is $8,500,000, made a profit of over $5,000,000, declared a 24 per cent dividend, and added an extra dividend of 21 per cent from an overgrown reserve, that still amounted to $4,355,000 after the disbursement. This establishment claims a perfected artificial rubber. The Badisch Anilin and Sodafabrik works, which paid 24 per cent on a capital of $8,500,000, has erected works in England since the new British patent law was enacted, and has also built large works in Norway for extracting nitrogen from the air.

The reported drying up of lakes in Switzerland, Germany, Russia and Tibet has led to the suggestion that the earth is becoming desiccated, and a novel German theory is that the ultra-violet rays of sunlight are concerned in the process. These rays slowly decompose water into hydrogen dioxide and hydrogen, the latter but no oxygen being evolved. The action taking place in the air, hydrogen dioxide is found in rain, while the hydrogen rises and at 62 miles constitutes 99 1/2 per cent of the atmosphere. This lightest of gases, moreover, is thought to be escaping into space.

The luminous night-shell that the British Admiralty has been testing has screwed to its base a cylinder of illuminant that bursts into flame as the gun is fired. The missile is brightly lighted through its whole trajectory, greatly aiding the gunners in estimating range, but presenting a strange and weird appearance.

Prickly pears and other cacti are the plants from which useful products must be obtained if the arid regions of the southwestern United States are to be given agricultural value. The experiment station at Las Cruces, New Mexico, began planting prickly pears six or eight years ago, placing the pieces in furrows ten feet apart, and in four or five years the rows had spread to a width of six to eight feet, leaving only narrow paths between them. The plants received no cultivation, irrigation or other attention. Much work has been expended in the effort to obtain serviceable materials from these desert plants, and the results seem to give good promise of practical success. The dark red fruit the size of a small egg, yields an excellent fruit coloring for confectionery and jellies. Half a dozen kinds of sugar have been extracted, and these have been fermented and transformed into alcohol. Calculations show that plants four years old should supply $150 of denatured alcohol per acre. The fruit is borne yearly, no replanting or other work of cultivation is necessary and the cost of the products is very little besides manufacture and transportation to a market.

Photography of the aurora borealis having been at also made practicable, we may hope soon to know more of this mysterious earth light. For the pictures recently obtained at Boscop, Norway, Carl Stormer used a cinematographic lens of one inch diameter and two inches focal length, and with Lumiere plates succeeded in getting 800 photographs—about one-half of them good—with exposures ranging from a fraction of a second to 20 seconds. The distance and position of the aurora were very accurately determined by comparing its place among the stars on photographs taken simultaneously at two telephone-connected stations about three miles apart.

Diffused light for the stage, in place of the usual gear of electric arcs, is obtained by a Spanish engineer by reflecting the rays of an arc lamp from silk bands unrolled in any desired position by pulleys. A quarter sphere lined with dead white is used as a sky, and the illusion of unlimited space is given by the diffused light thrown up on this arch.

Colloidal solutions, in which suspended particles give jelly-like characteristics are now produced in a very curious way by Svedberg, a Swedish experimenter, who makes use of Lenard and Wolf's discovery of a score of years ago that ultra-violet rays, may, under certain conditions, strike off dust by their impact on solid metals. After thorough cleaning, Svedberg places the metal in water or other solvent exposed in a flat dish to rays from a quartz-glass mercury-vapor lamp very near at hand. Silver, copper, tin and lead are rapidly attacked or pulverized, the size and number of the particles broken off varying in different liquids, and after a few minutes the ultra-microscope shows the usual peculiarities of a colloidal solution. On platinum, aluminum and cadmium there is little or no effect. In some solutions the particles are uniformly exceedingly small in size, and their incessant lively dancing or "Brownian movement" gives them a striking appearance in the instrument. Further experiments are expected to bring out interesting—and important—new facts.

Remarkable effects on the colors of plants are now produced by chemicals fed to the soil, but the imparted peculiarities are transient and cannot be transmitted to succeeding generations. In late trials by a German chemist, petals of white rose have been given a red color by application to the soil of a mixture of potassium hydrate, calcium hydrate and lead acetate. Other experiments were made with the red flowering hydrangea, and a quantity of potassium and aluminum sulphate, or if aluminum sulphate and calcium hydrate, when fed to the soil, transformed the flowers to a beautiful blue. Red or pink color was intensified by lead acetate.

The decay of stone monuments is a more complex effect than has been supposed, and Dr. T. Anderson, of York, Eng., finds that the crumbling of some stone work is due to the growth of bacilli. This cause seems to be responsible to much destruction commonly attributed to the weather. The organisms evidently thrive on the chemical substances of smoke and soot, but the extent of their influence is yet to be determined.

Staggers Skeptics.

That a clean, nice fragrant compound like Bucklen's Arnica salve, will instantly relieve a bad burn, cut, scald, wound or piles, staggers skeptics. But great cures prove its a wonderful healer of the worst sores, ulcers, boils, felons, eczema, skin eruptions, as also chapped hands, sprains and corns. Try it. 25 cents at Spagnoli's drug store.

ANY LADY can easily make from $18 to $25 per week working for me quietly in her own home locality. This is a bonafide offer—one which will pay you to investigate, even if you can only spare two hours per day. No investment required. Turn your spare time into money. Write me at once for particulars. Address MARY B. TAYLOR, Box 30, Woman's Building, Joliet, Illinois.

Deafness Can not be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars or any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Despair and Despondency

No one but a woman can tell the story of the suffering, the despair, and the despondency endured by women who carry a daily burden of ill-health and pain because of disorders and derangements of the delicate and important organs that are distinctly feminine. The tortures so bravely endured completely upset the nerves if long continued. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a positive cure for weakness and disease of the feminine organism.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

It allays inflammation, heals ulceration and soothes pain. It tones and builds up the nerves. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. Honest medicine dealers sell it, and have nothing to urge upon you as "just as good."

It is non-secret, non-alcoholic and has a record of forty years of cures. Ask Your Neighbors. They probably know of some of its many cures.

If you want a book that tells all about woman's diseases, and how to cure them at home, send 21 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce to pay cost of mailing only, and he will send you a free copy of his great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser—revised, up-to-date edition, in paper covers. In handsome cloth-binding, 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

DONT HIDE YOUR MONEY
The man who hides his money because he assumes to be afraid of banks forgets that it was the bank that perhaps made the prosperity possible which gave him
his money making opportunities.
Without the bank there would be no large commercial or business enterprises possible, salaries and wages would be low, and money making impossible. It is the bank in the exercise of its function in gathering together the them into active use that has brought prosperity.

To hide money is to hinder and

ANOTHER ROORBACK.

The present primary canvass, as far as the contest for local nominations is concerned, has been extremely barren of literature. The only card that has come to our notice thus far is being circulated in the interest of U. S. Gregory. The contest now going on in the democratic ranks for the nomination for sheriff is none of our concern, and the Ledger would have maintained a position of silence to the end of this preliminary skirmish had it not been for the appearance of this unique sample of double-dealing electioneering. The card is printed both sides, and faces both ways politically, being really an express and open plea for both the democratic and republican nomination for sheriff. This might pass without comment in a candidate without a rival aspirant in his own party, but in the case under consideration it is a most extraordinary move, in presence of the fact that the present incumbent of the sheriff's office is confronted with the bitterest struggle within his own party lines to secure a renomination that has ever been waged in democratic circles in the history of Amador county. So that this political card may be properly understood, we reproduce its wording here in reduced form:

(REVERSE)
HOW TO MARK YOUR BALLOT
To vote for a person whose name appears on the ballot, mark a cross (X) in the square at the right of the name of the person for whom you desire to vote.
To vote for a person whose name is not printed on the ballot, write his name in the blank space provided for that purpose, on either ticket; but do not stamp a cross after the name thus written.

Sheriff and Tax Collector	Vote for One
RICHARD DOE

U. S. GREGORY
Candidate for the Democratic Nomination for the office of
SHERIFF AND TAX COLLECTOR
of Amador county
Do your duty as good citizens, go to the primaries, and vote for your choice for this office.
Primary Election, Tuesday, Aug. 16, 1910.
Dispatch Press, Jackson.

The small black circle in the upper right hand corner represents a hole punched through the card, through which a string is inserted and attached, and at the end of the string a small lead pencil is suspended. With this apparatus the voters are being assiduously buttonholed and instructed in the science of how to scratch a republican ballot by writing the name of the democratic candidate for sheriff thereon, the little dangling lead pencil, thoughtfully provided for that purpose, figuring prominently in this operation. We leave our readers to ponder over the why and wherefore of this dodge. Note the wording on the face, the appeal to democrats to do their "duty as citizens" by voting for their choice "for THIS office." That is truly complimentary in its suggestiveness. Then the reverse with its pencil appendage is addressed exclusively to republicans, and is a bid for the nomination on that ticket. Democrats do not need to write on their ballots in voting for either of the rival candidates on their side. The stamping act is all-sufficient for them. What unadulterated gall this whole move reveals. The insinuation that republicans are so devoid of intelligence and education as to demand a school of instruction being set up for their special edification in the matter of how to mark their primary ballot in the interest of an outsider. Is the sheriff scared at the dimensions of the Gregory-Lucot fight, and dubious of the outcome. Is he preparing to turn non-partisan, or to flop over to the republican side in case the battle goes against him in his old-time camp. Or is he vain enough to imagine that he can capture both nominations by such childish methods. We should think the voters would be more apt to treat such tactics as they deserve, and grind the promoter between upper and nether millstones. We presume the card campaign will be called off as far as the reverse side is concerned, as a dismal failure, as well as a political blunder of the first magnitude.

If your liver is sluggish and out of tone, and you feel dull, bilious, constipated, take a dose of Chamberlain's stomach and liver tablets tonight before retiring, and you will feel all right in the morning. Sold by all dealers.

Miss Marie Parker returned to Napa one day last week, after a pleasant visit with relatives here.

Have you ever tried those self-dipping well buckets for sale at Weiler's Hardware Store?

Dysentery is a dangerous disease but can be cured. Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy has been successfully used in nine epidemics of dysentery. It has never been known to fail. It is equally valuable for children and adults, and when reduced with water and sweetened, it is pleasant to take. Sold by all dealers.

Mrs M. A. Tregloan, cook at the county hospital, left Tuesday morning on a vacation of one month. She will visit friends in Alameda county and San Francisco. Mrs Turner has been installed as cook at the hospital during her absence.

Be sure and take a bottle of Chamberlain's colic cholera and diarrhoea remedy with you when starting on your trip this summer. It cannot be obtained on board the trains or steamers. Changes of water and climate often cause sudden attacks of diarrhoea, and it is best to be prepared. Sold by all dealers.

Mrs Henry Garbarini presented her husband with a big baby boy last Monday morning. The proud father is receiving many hearty congratulations from his friends. Both mother and child are reported as doing finely.

When the digestion is all right, the action of the bowels regular, there is a natural craving and relish for food. When this is lacking you may know that you need a dose of Chamberlain's stomach and liver tablets. They strengthen the digestive organs, improve the appetite and regulate the bowels. Sold by all dealers.

Dr. Endicott removed a small tumor from the forehead of V. Garbarini last week, and the victim of the operation reports his condition as being excellent.

G W Weller has secured the services of Fred Friswell, of New York, who is a capable plumber and sheet-metal worker. Estimates will be furnished on such work on these lines. Give us a call.

In buying a cough medicine, don't be afraid to get Chamberlain's cough remedy. There is no danger from it, and relief is sure to follow. Especially recommended for coughs, colds and whooping cough. Sold by all dealers.

Road and state poll taxes are now due and payable to the assessor, and will be delinquent in August. Pay up and avoid the penalty.

Kidney Trouble

When the back begins to ache, Don't wait until backache becomes chronic; Till serious kidney troubles develop; Till urinary troubles destroy night's rest.

Profit by a Jackson citizen's experience

Benjamin F. Gilbert, 91 E. Court street, Jackson, Cal., says: "Backache and other symptoms of kidney complaint annoyed me greatly, and my condition steadily grew worse, in spite of all my efforts for relief. It was all that I could do to attend to my work and at the end of the day, I was so tired that I could not get my proper rest. Finally a party who had taken Doan's Kidney Pills, advised me to try them, and I was led to get a box at the City Pharmacy. In three days after beginning the use of this remedy, I felt its beneficial effect, and in a little over a month, my trouble was a thing of the past." (Statement given July 3, 1907.)

CONFIRMED PROOF.

On April 5, 1910, when Mr Gilbert was interviewed, he said: "I am glad to verify my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills. Since taking them in 1907, I have been free from pain in my back and my kidneys have been normal."

tenth day of November of each year there after until the maturity of said bonds, the said treasurer shall, in the presence of the governor, proceed to draw by lot such an amount of bonds as shall be requisite to exhaust as nearly as may be the amount in said sinking fund at that time, and thereupon before the tenth day of December following, give notice by public advertisement to be inserted twice a week for two weeks in two newspapers published in the county of San Francisco, and also in one newspaper published in the city of San Diego, and also in one newspaper published in the city of Los Angeles, stating the number of bonds drawn, and the principal of said bonds will be paid on presentation to the treasurer on or before the second day of January, following, and that from and after such last named date all interest upon bonds thus drawn shall cease, and it shall be the duty of the treasurer as soon as said bonds are drawn by lot are surrendered to him and paid to cancel the same, and the interest coupons thereon, and each year, beginning with the year nineteen hundred and fifty, the said treasurer shall, in the manner aforesaid, proceed to draw by lot such amount of bonds as shall be required to exhaust as nearly as may be the amount in said sinking fund, and proceed in the manner hereinabove stated. After the payment of all said bonds, the surplus of said bonds remaining in said sinking fund, if any there be, shall forthwith be paid into the San Diego harbor improvement fund. At the time of the respective drawings by lot, as aforesaid, and also at the maturity of said state bonds, said treasurer shall sell the United States or other bonds then in said sinking fund, at governing market rates, after giving the sale thereof in the manner hereinbefore provided for the sale of bonds hereby authorized to be issued, and shall use the proceeds for the payment of such bonds as may be drawn by lot, and at the maturity of said bonds outstanding shall pay and redeem said matured outstanding bonds out of said moneys in said fund in extinguishing said bonds on controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose.

SEC. 6. The state controller and the state treasurer shall keep full and particular account and record of all their proceedings under this act, and they shall transmit to the governor an abstract of all such proceedings thereunder, with an annual report, to be by the governor laid before the legislature biennially; and all books and papers pertaining to the matter provided for in this act shall at all times be open to the inspection of any party interested, or the governor or the attorney-general, or a committee of either branch of the legislature, or a joint committee of both, or any citizen of the state.

SEC. 7. It shall be the duty of the state treasurer to pay the interest of said bonds, when the same falls due, out of the sinking fund provided for in this act, on controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose.

SEC. 8. This act, if adopted by the people, shall take effect on the thirty-first day of December, nineteen hundred and ten, as to all its provisions, except those relating to the necessary for its submission to the people, and for returning, canvassing and proclaiming the votes, and as to said excepted provisions this act shall take effect immediately.

SEC. 9. This act shall be submitted to the people of the State of California for their ratification at the next general election, to be held in the month of November, next, and the same shall be printed thereon, and at the end thereof, the words, "For the San Diego seawall act," and in a separate line under the same words, "Against the San Diego seawall act," and opposite said lines there shall be left spaces in which the voters may make or stamp a cross to indicate whether they vote for or against said act, and those voting for said act shall do so by placing a cross opposite the words "For the San Diego seawall act." The governor of this state shall instruct the submission of this act to the people, as aforesaid, in his proclamation calling for said general election.

SEC. 10. The votes cast for or against this act shall be counted, returned and canvassed and declared in the same manner and subject to the same rules as votes cast for state officers; and if it appears that said act shall have received a majority of all the votes cast for and against it at said election, as aforesaid, then the same shall have effect as herebefore provided, and shall be irrevocable until the principal and interest of the liabilities herein created shall be paid and discharged, and the governor shall make proclamation thereof; but if a majority of the votes cast as aforesaid are against this act then the same shall be and become void.

SEC. 11. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to have this act published in at least one newspaper in each county, or city and county, if one be published therein, throughout this state, for three months next preceding the general election to be held in the month of November, nineteen hundred and ten, and the cost of publication shall be paid out of the San Diego harbor improvement fund on controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose.

SEC. 12. The state controller and state treasurer are hereby directed to transfer from any moneys paid into the San Diego seawall fund under the provisions of this act to the general fund of the State of California, any and all sums of money theretofore transferred from said fund to the San Diego seawall fund, together with interest on said moneys from the date of transfer at the rate of four per cent per annum.

SEC. 13. This act may be known and cited as the "San Diego seawall act of 1907."

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

CALL FOR Republican County Convention

Notice is hereby given that at a meeting of the republican county central committee held in Jackson, July 12, 1910, it was ordered that a republican convention be held in Jackson, on Saturday, August 27, 1910, at 10 o'clock a. m. for the purpose of selecting delegates to attend the state convention for the adoption of resolutions or platform, for the election of a new county central committee, and the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting. The basis of apportionment for delegates to said county convention shall be one vote for every 25 votes, or majority fraction thereof cast for the highest presidential elector at the election in 1908. Under this apportionment the number of delegates which the respective precincts are entitled to is as follows:

Precincts	No Delegates
Jackson 1	3
Jackson 2	3
Jackson 3	3
North Jackson	2
South Jackson	2
West Jackson	1
North Ione	3
South Ione	4
Buena Vista	1
Laucha Plains	1
Oleta	2
Volcano	2
Pine Grove	2
North Amador	1
South Amador	1
South Sutter Creek	2
East Sutter Creek	3
West Sutter Creek	1
North Plymouth	1
South Plymouth	1

Better Photographs

When you have your "photos" taken by LOGAN you get better workmanship and more satisfaction than anywhere else. Up-to-date apparatus, the best of skill and many years of experience have given LOGAN a well deserved reputation. He is the premier photographer of Stockton. When you come to town don't fail to call at the studio—15 S. San Joaquin St. Prices always moderate—work always best.

Never can tell when you'll mash a finger or suffer a cut, bruise, burn or scald. Be prepared. D. Thomas' Electric Oil instantly relieves the pain—quickly cures the wound.

Electric Bitters

Succeed when everything else fails. In nervous prostration and female weaknesses they are the supreme remedy, as thousands have testified. FOR KIDNEY, LIVER AND STOMACH TROUBLE it is the best medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter.

August.
Last year,
Alack and alas!
Beverly, Mass.,
And Bill on the flat
Of his back on the grass
Sounding the depths
Of the opaline sky
And watching the clouds
Floating dreamily by.
Last year,
Alack and alas!
Beverly, Mass.,
This year,
Sagamore Hill,
Strenuous still,
And no one complaining
For want of a thimble,
Shindy and sass
Just as certain as fate—
Beverly, Mass.,
Can dream early or late,
Shore as it pleases
And snooze as it will—
This year,
Sagamore Hill.

Of August it may first be said, its name is from Augustus, whom men have likened unto Ted, perhaps without injustice. He made the world go round about as many times a minute, and the news was always dull without the great Augustus in it.

He has his Ananias Club for liars and for fakers, and he loved to sail his little tub among the Roman breakers. He counted peace a sort of plague, and never did pursue it, but let it rally at the Hague, and you couldn't beat him to it.

He preached about the same old things that Teddy has been preaching, and most of Rome's awakenings resulted from his teaching. He battled hotly for the right, and valiantly imbued it, and the stork could not attempt to fight but what he up and shooed it.

There was, however, one affair to tell which is to tattle, and that was where the Roman bear was coming in from battle. He had, of course, put everything opposing him to slumber, and Rome awaited him to sing some laudatory number.

But here the parallel desists. Augustus said them, No, sir! and when he entered with his lists it might have been the grocer for all the greeting that he got from that admiring chorus, the which desire, of course, was not a bit like Theodoros.

But however, when he died the month that lives to grill us was being written far and wide the season of Sextilis. They wanted to commemorate the hot time he presented the nation, with, at any rate, so August was invented.

The dog days will resume, again,
And the man who voted water
With the weather down to eight or ten

Below will grow the hotter
With wishing that he had foreseen
The season hot and stewing,
And nothing but a choice between
Pink lemonade and bluing.

It will not strike him, we're afraid, as when the cold was stinging, and up and down the wind-swept street the iceicles were clinging. There's nothing like a dry parade, the shouts of Hal-lue-lulliah, and the children skillfully arrayed for what you want to fool you.

Is't very easy to forget there's such a thing as summer, or such a quantity as sweat, what time the busy drummer is rub-a-dubbing up the street a million bumps a minute, and the line sweeps by with rhythmic feet and the little shavers in it.

It somehow makes it seem that booze is only fit for motors, and in the scuffle that ensues not very many voters bethink them that a chance remains that milk won't give them gristle to last when August boils their brains and their ears begin to whistle.

A crazy temperance in that contriving its elections when Boreas is at the bat in these disputed sections. There is a time for everything, to labor and to potter, and one to sit way back and sing inaudibly for water.

At any rate, the world will spin
With very small pretension,
And the fall elections will begin
To clamor for attention.
The next few weeks will fire the gun
Repeatedly and oftly,
And a lot of folks begin to run
For office very softly.

The bold insurgent will have polled the principal chauntawags, and will by that time have been told how far discreet his balk was, or if to follow his attack with further demonstration, or quietly to tip-toe back upon the reservation.

The hopeful democrat will tool this way and that way training, and hope to have us as a rule have none of their explaining. He'll carefully trim up his wicks and get his pump pulsating, and pass the grand stand every six or seven seconds waiting.

There'll be some dust put up, it seems, when this event gets going,
and some things starting at the seams that wanted proper sewing. No wonder Roosevelt came back, and nowadays his gun is rusting in the shooting rack, when here is where the fun is.

The time of green and growing things will near its termination, and the song the thrasher sweetly sings will come with moderation. We'll sort o' think of autumn time, the hunter and the mutter, and the fishing hole will wear a slime as thick as apple butter.

And then September will return
In good autumnal fashion,
And the part fall upon his harp
In something of a passion.

The Best Hour of Life

is when you do some great deed or discover some wonderful fact. This hour came to J. R. Pitt, of Rocky Mt., N. C., when he was suffering intensely, as he says, "from the worst cold I ever had, I then prayed to my great satisfaction, what a wonderful cold and cough cure Dr. King's New Discovery is. For, after taking one bottle, I was entirely cured. You can't say anything too good of a medicine like that." Its the surest and best remedy for diseased lungs, hemorrhages, la grippe, asthma, hay fever—any throat or lung trouble. 50c.

Misses Elva and Melvina Trojan, two daughters of Mrs Amanda Trojan of San Jose, but formerly of Jackson, arrived in this city Sunday evening to spend a few week's vacation with friends and relatives.

Last Saturday evening a party of fourteen Eastern Stars went from Jackson to lone to exemplify in the initiatory work for the grand matron, sister R. J. Burns. A light lunch was served, ending with ice cream. All enjoyed the trip, and the party did not get home until the wee hours of morning.

James Jay Wright and wife, Mrs Stephen of Murphy's and Miss Eileen D. Fleming, went to Plymouth Wednesday. Mrs Wright, district deputy grand president, installed the N. D. G. W. of Forrest parlor, Plymouth. Refreshments consisted of pineapple icecream, cakes and watermelons. They left for home the next morning, having stopped at the office of E. H. Harrington, superintendent of the Bunker Hill mine of Amador City. Amador is looking bright, also Sutter Creek, for workmen are busy at the New Lincoln mine. The other towns are not so prosperous, the mines being closed and the people depending in farming and transient custom.

The residents of north Main street are getting quite alarmed about the shooting that is going on in Bright's field. Last Sunday evening, a small child was on the front porch of her own home. The shots fell like hail on all our houses and it is really not safe to go out. The first day the dove law was out, the shots were simply flying wild in every direction.

The total registration in Amador county for the primary election foots up 2246, a very heavy enrollment. Of these the republicans have a clear majority of from 180 to 200.
The republicans of all precincts in township one, Jackson, are requested to meet at the Ledger building tomorrow (Saturday) evening, at 8 o'clock, to decide in caucus upon delegates to county convention to be voted for at the primaries on Aug. 16.

A SPIKED MOUNTAIN.

One of the Remarkable Geological Freaks of Mexico.

One of the most remarkable geological freaks in Mexico is a mountain situated on the outskirts of Pachuca which presents the appearance at a distance of being covered with spikes. The sides of the mountain are closely studded with stone columns or palisades. These columns are five to twelve feet long and as large around as an average man's body. It is a remarkable uplift of nature which has the appearance, however, of being the handiwork of human beings. One side of the mountain is almost perpendicular, and the stone columns protrude from the surface at right angles, forming an impressive picture.

Pachuca is one of the most noted mining districts in Mexico, and it is said by geologists that this remarkable spiked mountain is out of keeping with the remainder of the formation of the mineralized region. The stone is as hard as flint and has withstood the elements for ages. The spikes form a natural battlement that makes the mountain appear from a distance like some ancient fort. The mines of the Pachuca district are situated not far from this wonderful freak of nature, but the formation encountered in their respective underground workings is of an entirely different kind from that of the palisade outcropping.—Pachuca (Mexico) Cor. Indianapolis News.

THE DANGER IN DUST.

A Medical Writer Who Says "Let Sleeping Germs Lie."

Did you ever realize what a dangerous thing it is to clean house in the spring? A writer in a London medical journal, the Lancet, insists that spring cleaning has many possibilities for evil if not properly conducted. Dirt and dust are full of disease breeding germs; but, however dangerous these creatures may be when lodged in the woodwork or comfortably settled under the hall carpet, they are much more ferocious, this writer insists, if stirred up and irritated and sent flying through the air. If we can't keep our houses clean as we go we had better let them stay dirty. This writer's rule is to "let sleeping germs lie."

What a house would look like after forty years of total abstinence from spring cleaning we leave to our women readers to judge. Yet we venture the assertion that there is one creature who would find the situation entirely satisfactory. It dislikes the annual cleaning ceremony, it hates to eat cold suppers off the kitchen table, and beating carpets is to it an abomination. It will doubtless make capital out of the Englishman's warning against the perils of housecleaning.

Book of the Dead.

The Book of the Dead is a most remarkable literary relic of ancient Egypt, of uncertain date and origin, but well known before the kings of the first dynasty. Probably the collected work of many minds in different ages, it was regarded as the work of the god Thoth and therefore of divine authority, dealing mainly with the dead and their future state. Some of its texts, prayers, hymns and ritual were used by the predynastic priests, and parts of the book are said to be long to a period fifty centuries before the Christian era. Copies of it were placed in the tombs, and texts from it were inscribed on coffins to preserve the dead from dangers and to direct them to the boat of Ra on their way to the hall of Osiris, which was the goal desired. The oldest existing papyrus copy of the book was written for "Nu, the son of the overseer of the house of the overseer of the seat Amenhetep and of the lady of the house Seneb" and probably belongs to the early part of the eighteenth dynasty.

A Fateful Breach of Etiquette.

Under the third empire in France Sainte-Beuve brought disgrace upon himself because at breakfast at the Tuileries he carelessly opened his napkin and placed it over his two knees. To this he added the crime of cutting his egg in two at the middle. Court etiquette prescribed that the half folded napkin should lie on the left knee and the top of the egg was to be merely broken with the edge of the spoon and drained with the tip of the spoon. For his failings in these respects Sainte-Beuve's name was stricken off the imperial visiting list.—London Chronicle.

Easy to Estimate.

She doesn't care if people know how old she is. She doesn't bid inquirers go about their biz. We needn't ask her to confess her age, I wien. The same is very safe to guess at seventeen.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

—Puck.

MEXICAN WOOING.

From Making Eyes at a Senorita to the Grand Serenade.

In the uncertain illumination of the electric lamps some of the senoritas of Tepic City appeared very attractive in breezy, fluffy gowns and fetching mantillas, and they knew it pretty well too. They like to have you look at them directly and admiringly, and they will not drop their eyes.

If you have the nerve to give one a look of this kind—such a look as would be considered extremely rude in any American city—the chances are when you meet her on the next turn you will be rewarded with a smile and a challenge from the black eyes, and if you have a sufficient stock of nerve in reserve you will speak to her and pay her some complimentary remark upon the first opportunity that offers. This is good breeding and will not be resented.

Should you then become infatuated with the lady you will search out her home, visit her barred window and mope under it for an hour or two every morning, and if you impress her favorably she will make your heart glad by talking with you through the bars or dropping little scented notes to you.

Should you become real serious you will hire a stringed band to serenade her at night now and then. To conform with the custom you should start your band out at midnight and let it play as long as your money lasts.—Outing Magazine.

COSTERMONGER.

The Word in Former Times Was Spelled "Costard-monger."

The word costermonger is now used of an itinerant fruit seller. It was formerly spelled costard-monger and in this form appears in Drant's "Horace," to translate the Latin word "pomarius."

Literally it means costard seller, costard being a kind of apple, the name of which Murray connects with coste, a rib.

Some etymologists connect it with custard, assuming that the pulp of apples was used in preparing this delicacy, but there is no real reason for this, since the "custard apple," mentioned in Daupier's "Voyages" (1699), is quite different fruit from the middle English costard.

Some connect it also with "costard," the humorous name for a head—"Take him over the costard with the hilt of thy sword" (Shakespeare). But it seems more probable that the head was called after the apple than the apple after the head.

The termination "monger" simply means a dealer or trader, as in fellow-monger and ironmonger, and is derived from the Anglo-Saxon word "mangan," to traffic or barter, which is akin to the Latin "mango," a dealer who sets off and polishes up his wares.—London Standard.

Two Ribs Broken.

Several people saw him slip on a wet step and fall. Partly extricating himself from his umbrella, he set up such a wail of distress that every one in hearing ran to his assistance regardless of the drenching rain.

"Are you hurt?" asked a chorus of voices.

"Anything broken?" demanded another.

"Only two ribs," he muttered in tones of deep anguish as he wiped his bearded face on his sleeve.

Helping him up, a kind man dragged him into a drug store. One thoughtful person suggested a glass of brandy, another more generous said there were two ribs broken, and a second glass followed the first.

"That'll make you feel better, old man. Ribs hurt you now?"

"What ribs?" he puzzled, smacking his lips.

"Why, the ones you said were broken?"

"Oh," he replied, getting on his feet and moving toward the door. "Dey was de ribs in me umbrella."—Judge.

The Waiting Ones.

A gentleman meeting a young woman who had formerly been a servant in his house and in whose welfare he was interested, the following conversation took place:

"Why, haven't you got married yet?"

"No, sir."

"Well, I thought you would have been married before now."

"Oh, no, sir; there's two waiting."

"Two! Why, you don't mean to marry two, do you?"

"No, sir."

"Then who are they?"

"Why, the two that's waiting is the parson and me. We are waiting for the man."—London Scraps.

How to Open a New Book.

The best way to open a new book without risk of injuring it is to place it on its back upon a smooth or covered table, let down the fore and then the hind board, hold the leaves in one hand and open a few of the fore and afterward the end leaves until you reach the center of the volume. Do this several times and you will not break the back of the book.

MIND OVER MATTER.

The Power of the Spirit in Helping, to Retain Life.

The power of the mind over the body, as demonstrated in all forms of faith healing, was recognized in the seventeenth century by Richelleu's physician, Citois. Summoned to attend his master's constant fits of depression, Citois would solemnly call for a sheet of paper on which to write a prescription, and almost invariably after his departure the prescription would prove to consist of the words "One dram of Boisrobort." Boisrobort being a poet of small talent, but possessed of high spirits and wit. In those days, when the common remedy was bleeding, when it is known that Voiture, the poet, was bled to death and the Princess of Conti, suffering from apoplexy, was beaten till she died in the hope of rousing her from her lethargy, it is no wonder that a humane and a human physician like Citois should have been successful.

The famous frequenter of the French salons, Fontenelle, is, however, the best example of the power of the spirit in retaining life. At the age of ninety-five he fell when picking up a lady's handkerchief and made the historic remark, "Ah, que je n'ai pas encore quatre-vingts ans." A certain callousness marked his determination not to die, as on the occasion when, a friend dying beside him at the table, he requested his man to remove him and continued his conversation. He managed, nevertheless, to survive to within a month of his hundred years and then complained that he would have lasted much longer had not the outbreak of war "put a stop to pleasant conversation."—London Chronicle.

THE CUP THAT CHEERS.

Tea Flowers and the Way They Are Gathered in China.

Early writers speak of tea as having two varieties. One, Thea bohea, they supposed to be the source of the black and the other, Thea viridis, of the green tea. But Robert Fortune established the fact in 1843 that while these two varieties existed, black and green were made indifferently from both.

The tea flower is small, single, white and has no smell. The seeds are three small nuts, like filberts, and have an oily and bitter taste. The leaves only are used. Only the young leaves are gathered, and the younger and tenderer they are the better. They are collected when the plant is three years old, the process being continued year after year until the bush becomes weak and diseased, when it is pulled up to give place to a new shoot.

In China there are about three crops annually, the first being gathered as soon as the leaves break in the spring, April to May, and the latter as new "flushes" (buds) are made by the plants which have been stripped of their earlier foliage, this harvest beginning in June or July and lasting as late as September or October.

An almond eyed oriental, Lo Yu, the earliest Chinese writer, pronounces this eulogium on tea:

"It tempers the spirits and harmonizes the mind, dispels lassitude and relieves fatigue, awakens thought and prevents drowsiness, lightens and refreshes the body and clears the perceptive faculties."—New York World.

The Fox and the Hen.

A Fox, having crept into an out-house, looked up and down for something to eat and at last spied a Hen sitting upon a perch so high that he could by no means come to her. He therefore had recourse to an old stratagem. "Dear cousin," he said to her, "how do you do? I heard that you were ill and kept at home. I could not rest, therefore, till I had come to see you. Pray let me feel your pulse. Indeed, you do not look well at all." He was running on in this impudent manner when the Hen answered him from the roost: "Truly, dear Reynard, you are in the right. I was seldom in more danger than I am now. Pray excuse my coming down. I am sure I should catch my death." The Fox, finding himself foiled, made off and tried his luck elsewhere.—Aesop.

Self Evident.

One of the dangers of a little knowledge is that its possessor rarely estimates it at its true value. Ignorance, it has been said, bestows her choicest gifts on those who value her least.

A conceited undergraduate once said to his teacher that he feared he had rather a contempt for Plato.

"I am afraid, Mr. Johnson," replied the teacher, "that your contempt has not been bred by familiarity."—Youth's Companion.

Unrequited Love.

First Office Boy—Me boss is awful cranky lately. I wonder what makes him so hard on a fellow. Second Office Boy—Dat's easy. When a man's hard on a fellow it's a sign he's soft on a girl.—Lippincott's.

Not His Fault.

The Poet—Poets are born, not made. The Girl—I know. I wasn't blaming you.—Boston Transcript.

POSTED HERSELF.

And Then Told the Author About His Book of Travel.

Prince de Talleyrand one day, when rising from lunch, said to his wife, a very ignorant lady: "You will have at your side at dinner tonight a very remarkable man. He has written his travels. For heaven's sake, do talk to him sensibly. As you pass through the library ask for the book and glance it through and bring the conversation to this subject. Do not forget to ask for M. Denon's work."

The princess obeyed, but the thought of the torrent of sarcasm which would follow an unsuccessful issue of her lord's commands made her forget the name of the author. "Give me," said the princess, addressing the librarian, "the adventures of this traveler. Listen, now, a name which ends in 'on'."

"I know," said the librarian, smiling, and he handed her "Robinson Crusoe."

Mme. de Talleyrand read the book and was enchanted with the story, and more so with the thought that she was to dine with the author. At night she found herself next to M. Denon at table. She was not long in turning the conversation into the line directed by the prince, so she said to her neighbor: "Your travels have interested me deeply, monsieur. What joy you must have experienced in your lonely island when you found 'Friday'!"—From "L'Esprit de Talleyrand."

HELD HIS JOB.

The Boy Was Willing to Be a Friend to Senator Hanna.

When Senator Hanna was walking through his factory in Cleveland some years ago on the lookout for new ideas or anything which would aid the progress of business he overheard a little red headed lad remark:

"Wish I had old Hanna's money and he was in the poorhouse."

The senator returned to his office and rang to have the boy sent to him. The boy came to the office timidly, just a bit conscience stricken, wondering if his remark had been overheard and ready for the penalty. As the lad twisted his hands and nervously stood on one foot before the gaze of those twinkling dark eyes fixed on him by the man at the desk he felt the hand of Uncle Mark on his shoulder:

"So you wish you had old Hanna's money and he was in the poorhouse, eh? Suppose your wish should be granted. What would you do?"

"Why," stammered the lad, "the first thing I would do, sir, would be to get you out of the poorhouse."

The senator laughed and sent the boy back to his work. Today he is one of the managers of a large factory, but he never tires of telling the story that held his first job.—Joe Mitchell Chapple in National Magazine.

Canine Etiquette.

In their relations with one another dogs have a keen sense of etiquette. A well known traveler makes this unexpected remark about a tribe of naked black men living on one of the south sea islands: "In their everyday intercourse there is much that is stiff, formal and precise."

Almost the same remark might be made about dogs. Unless they are on very intimate terms they take great pains never to brush against or even to touch one another. For one dog to step over another is a dangerous breach of etiquette unless they are special friends. It is no uncommon thing for two dogs to belong to the same person and live in the same house and yet never take the slightest notice of each other. We have a spaniel so dignified that he will never permit another member of the dog family to pillow his head upon him; but, with the egotism of a true aristocrat, he does not hesitate to make use of the other dogs for that purpose.—Henry C. Merwin in Atlantic.

When Lives Were Cheap.

In the prison of Luxembourg one of Fouquier Tinville's agents could make up only seventeen convicts out of the list of eighteen which had been given him. "I want one more," he said. He asked the first suspect who passed by his name and on hearing it said, "Yes; it is you." He had him carried off, and the next day he was guillotined.

On another occasion a warder called out the name of an aged prisoner. A lad who was playing ball in the gallery mistook the name for his own and asked if he was wanted. "Yes," was the answer; "come along," and the next day the boy was guillotined instead of the man.

At Bordeaux a boy of sixteen named Mellet was guillotined instead of an old man of eighty named Bellay. On objecting he was told that he was eighty years old in wickedness.

Strange Hiding Place.

False teeth are occasionally used for secretive purposes. An eccentric old lady boasts of a roof plate which consists of two thin sheets of gold between which a miniature copy of her will is inserted. In a similar manner a dyer preserves a prescription which he declares he would not disclose for a large sum.—London Mail.

THE MICROSCOPE.

It Has Its Prototype in Every Spherical Drop of Water.

Nature offers a free microscope whenever one is wanted. She has been dealing in free optical instruments and optical phenomena ever since the first dewdrop formed or the first raindrop fell earthward. Every dewdrop and raindrop and spherical water drop has all the powers and principles of a microscope. To get one of nature's microscopes in operation take up a drop of water between the two points of two sharpened sticks, say matches, and hold the drop over the minute object to be examined. The result will be that the object will be magnified about three diameters. The supposed invention of the microscope was nothing more than shaping a piece of glass into an imitation of a water drop so as to be easily handled.

Spiders have made suspension bridges for ages. The rough edge of sword grass gave the inventor the idea of the reaper blade for the harvester. The buzzard has been using the aeroplane for flying a good many centuries. By tapping on an end of a long beam the man at the farther end can hear you telegraphing, the sound traveling through the timber. Fishes have been using bladders of wind for balloons, lifting them in water for countless years. Water has been a camera ever since the world had sunshine.

Help yourself to nature's store of all things man needs, but never say anything about the invention. Nature invented; you can only arrange and combine facts.—St. Louis Republic.

EARLY BALLOONING.

Some Old Ideas That Prevailed in the Eighteenth Century.

As far back as 1844 the American public were led to believe that the Atlantic had been crossed in a balloon. On May 23 in that year the New York Sun published a detailed account of an aerial voyage from Liverpool to Charleston, which purported to have been accomplished by "the steering balloon Victoria in a period of seventy-five hours from land to land." Five columns were devoted to the description of the journey and to a scientific account of the balloon, of which a woodcut was given, and an air of verisimilitude was added by a list of eight passengers, one of the names mentioned being that of Harrison Alsworth, who was then at the height of his fame.

At the end of the eighteenth century balloons were all the rage. Then, as now, enthusiasts predicted a time near at hand when war would either be an awful matter of the annihilation of armies and forts by bombs from above or would cease altogether through the abolition of frontiers and the fusion of nations. Prophecy went even further.

Canals and roads were to vanish and the space occupied by them to be restored to agriculture. And ships (if any still existed when caught in a storm would be grappled by the man from balloons above and safely conveyed into port or even carried over mountain ranges.—Chicago News.

London's Police Press.

An article in the Illustrated English Magazine gives an account of the printing department of Scotland Yard and the astonishing amount of work it turns out. Four times a day a broadside is issued to all the police officers. At 9 in the morning the first is sent out, giving an inventory of all property lost. At noon is issued a list of all persons missing, and this often occupies several pages. At half past 6 the broadside contains both subjects, and also at half past 10. A habitual criminal register is distributed and every few days an account of persons released on tickets of leave. A sheet of missing articles is sent to every pawnbroker, and as many as 4,000 copies of this document are needed. This is only a small part of the work done by the Scotland Yard press.

When You Can't Sleep.

There is an odd theory, which many people believe and which is certainly harmless, that sleeplessness may often be cured in the following odd way: Move your bed out into the room so that no part of bed or covers will touch the wall. Then place under each easter of the bed a piece of rubber or a rubber overshoe or set the easter in a thick glass dish. Then go to bed, making sure the covers do not touch the wall. Thus the bed and yourself will be cut off from all electric contact with floor or wall. Such absence of electric contact, it is claimed, will make you sleep better. It is said to have cured stubborn cases of insomnia.

The Hot Air Balloon.

It is related that the hot air balloon had its origin in a petticoat. Mme. Montgolfier had washed her garment, intending to wear it to a great festival the next day, and hung it over a chafing dish to dry. The hot air swelled out its folds and floated it up into the air. The lady, in astonishment, called her husband to see the sight. He at once grasped the idea and was not long in producing the hot air balloon.

AFTER THE COLLISION.

Effects Upon the Nerves of Wrecks Upon the Rails.

A wreck sometimes upsets even the most iron nerved. Once the wreck master on his arrival noticed a bare-headed man in overalls, covered with coal dust and blood, sitting beside his engine with tears running down his face. He recognized him as the engineer, who had been hauled out a few minutes before from under the mass of twisted, battered steel that had once been a locomotive. Singularly enough, beyond a few cuts and bruises he was unhurt. He was crying because he could not find his cap that he had bought new that day and begged the wreck master to help him hunt for it.

A passenger conductor of a train that was derailed and had plunged down an embankment crawled out of the confusion and rendered cool and efficient help during the half hour before the wreck train arrived. A little later the wreck master chanced to look around and saw the conductor standing beside him holding a matchbox to his ear and shaking it. Presently he put it back in his pocket, but took it out again in a moment and repeated his action.

"What's the matter with you?" asked the wreck master.

"My watch has stopped. I can't get it to going, and I don't know what time it is," answered the conductor, still listening to his matchbox.

The wreck master took the conductor by the shoulders and shook him roughly. Then he "came to."—Thaddeus S. Dayton in Harper's Weekly.

MADE SURE OF IT.

The Gift Was Delayed, but the Groom Got the Bird.

A wealthy patron of the turf in New York told an amusing story of a favorite groom and a turkey.

"I had once promised this groom," he said, "a Christmas turkey, but somehow in the rush and flurry of December I forgot it. It was some days after Christmas when I remembered how I had overlooked my faithful old friend.

"Meeting him in the paddock one morning and intending to make good my forgetfulness, I said to the groom by way of a joke:

"Well, Jenkins, how did you like that turkey I sent you?"

"It was a very fine bird, sir," said the groom. "I came very near losing it, though."

"How so?" said I, astonished.

"Well, sir," said Jenkins, "Christmas morning came, and your turkey hadn't reached me, so I rushed right off to the express company and asked the manager what he meant by not sending the bird up. The manager apologized, sir, very politely, and he took me into a back room, where there were ten or fifteen turkeys hanging, and he said the labels had been lost off them and I'd just better take my choice. So I chose the largest, sir, knowing your generosity, and it was fine, it ate grand. Thank you very much indeed, sir."—Washington Star.

Commās.

The French do not, as a rule, employ inverted commas to indicate a dialogue, but they employ the dash to indicate a change of speakers, which is just as bad. Certainly many punctuation marks are sadly misused or overused. Dickens flung unnecessary commas all over his pages—whole battalions of them. Walter Pater also employed them with extraordinary prodigality, frequently before the word "and" where the conjunction rendered them superfluous. Pater was also overfond of the mark of exclamation, so that when he drops a "Yes" into his measured style it must needs appear as "Yes!" But, though the Bible does without inverted commas, there is real art in its punctuation. How admirably it marks the cadence and helps the drama in that great story of the prodigal son!—London Chronicle.

Culpeper's Remedies.

Old time physicians prescribed even more unsavory remedies than rancid butter, which was Emperor Menelik's cure for malarial fever. In "Culpeper's Herbal," published originally in 1656 and reprinted as recently as 1820, are such prescriptions as "oil wherein frogs have been sodden till all the flesh is off from their bones," "horse leeches burned into powder" and "black soap and beaten ginger." Some of Culpeper's remedies are of a more practical nature. "If redhot gold be quenched in wine," he says, "and the wine drunk it cheers the vitals and cures the plague. Outwardly used it takes away spots and leprosis."

Ready For Use.

As usual, the children were very hungry and were waiting patiently for father to fill the plates and pass them around. Father, however, was busily engaged in conversation and missed little Marion. After every one had begun eating the child grew desperate and interrupted his father:

"Say, papa, I've an awful good appetite today if you'll only give me a chance to use it."—Woman's Home Companion.
